Small Savings Mopup Stays Strong Despite Shift to New Tax Regime

FISCAL RELIEF Provides the Centre added comfort on the market borrowing requirements

Anuradha Shukla & Bankinkar Pannayak

New Delhi: Collections under the National Small Savings Fund (NSSF) touched ₹2.17 lakh crore as of January 10, accounting for about two-thirds of the budget estimate (BE) for the fiscal, people familiar with the matter said.

Given that a large part of such deposits typically flows in the March quarter, driven by the year-end rush for tax-saving instruments, officials expect the overall 2025-26 collections to exceed the initial target.

Higher-than-budgeted inflows into small savings schemes—including the tax-saving Public Provident Fund and Sukanya Samridhi Yojana—provide an additional layer of comfort to the central government and pare its market borrowing requirements.

The Centre has budgeted its 2025-26 outflow from NSSF at ₹3.43 lakh crore, down from ₹4.12 lakh crore (revised estimate) FY25 to fund a part of the fiscal deficit. It aims to rein in its fiscal deficit at ₹15.69 lakh crore, or 4.4% of gross domestic product, in 2025-26 from 4.8% a year earlier.

The budgeted reduction in NSSF offtake was done, factoring in the likely shift of a large number of taxpayers to the new income tax regime, which was made more attractive in the last budget through larger tax relief. The new regime does not offer tax incentives for small savings investments, while such deposits of up to ₹1.5 lakh a year continue to qualify for tax deduction under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act under the old regime.

Still, small savings schemes continue to draw healthy deposits, despite the migration of about 75% taxpayers to the new tax regime, officials said, attributing it to more attractive interest rates vis-à-vis some of comparable instruments. The government has already lowered its 2025-26 target of gross market borrowing through dated securities to ₹14.72 lakh crore from the budgeted ₹14.82 lakh crore.

Interest rates for a dozen small savings schemes are kept unchanged for an eighth straight quarter through March. This is despite the central bank trimming the benchmark lending rate by 125 basis points over the past one year, which has weighed down on bank deposit rates.

The rate changes for small savings schemes are usually determined, factoring in expected yields of government securities of comparable tenures, which, too, have started moderating in recent quarters.

Deposits under the PPF and Sukanya Samridhi accounts continue to offer interest rates of 7.1% and 8.2%, respectively, in the current quarter.

The rates also remain unchanged for Senior Citizen Savings Scheme (8.2%), National Savings Certificate (7.7%), Kisan Vikas Patra (7.5% for maturity in 15 months), savings deposits (4%), one-year deposits (6.9%), two-year deposits (7%), three-year deposits (7.1%), five-year deposits (7.5%), five-year recurring deposits (6.7%) and the monthly income account scheme (7.4%).

Private Sector Activity Bounces Back in Jan on Strong Demand

Our Bureau

New Delhi: India's private sector activity rebounded in January, with the HSBC Flash Composite Output Index rising to 59.5 in January from an 11-month low of 57.8 in December, fuelled by faster growth in new orders and output, according to a private survey released on Friday.

The index stood at 57.7 in January 2025. "After losing some momentum at the end of the 2025 calendar year, growth across India's private sector economy bounced back in January," the survey mentioned.

Looking ahead, business sentiment improved in January, with confidence climbing to a three-month high. Panellists cited efficiency gains, strong demand conditions, allocated marketing budgets, and favourable exchange rates as key tailwinds.

"Growth, as signalled by the HSBC flash PMI, picked up pace for both manufacturing and services," said Pranjal Bhandari, chief India economist at HSBC.

New business inflows increased as strengthening demand and aggressive marketing efforts boosted sales. Manufacturers reported a sharper acceleration than service providers though growth gathered pace across both sectors.

International orders climbed to a four-month high, with Asia, Australia, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East emerging as major destinations for Indian goods and services. "Despite the rise in the manufacturing PMI, January's figure remained below the 2025 average," said Bhandari. "After losing some momentum at the end of 2025, new orders rose more rapidly—led by a faster pick up in domestic orders."

Manufacturing PMI rose to 56.8 in January from 55 in December, while services increased to 59.3 from 58. Hiring activity resumed in January following stagnation last month. Although modest, the pace of job creation was broadly in line with the series trend. Firms attributed the higher recruitment to efforts to better align resources with business needs, with additions at the junior and mid-level.

On the cost front, input prices rose at the fastest pace in four months in January, with the pressures more pronounced in the services sector.

Output charges increased at a similar rate across manufacturing and services, resulting in the quickest rise in overall private sector charges in three months. Survey respondents said higher input, labour, and transportation costs were passed on to clients to protect margins. They reported increased spending on food (egg, meat and vegetables), fuel and steel. "Input cost pressures rose quickly, though more for goods producers than for service providers," said Bhandari.
